Outcome of the conference participation

The presentation was held in the HS1 to the audience from the different fields of weather and climate research. After the presentation there were a few questions about the methodology applied to the review process. As a part of contribution to FAIRNESS Cost Action, the results of the work of WG1 were presented in the review on urban meteorological networks. Furthermore, the audience members were invited to join the FAIRNESS Cost Action. The topic was presented to the colleagues from Croatia, Czech Republic, Belgium, Germany, France, Hungary at the coffee breaks, where discussion continued. Several new contacts expressed the willingness to collaborate in the future.
